Changes for the Library and Connections

This issue of Connections marks the end of an era. Since the library first opened in 1980, every year has brought with it more growth, more residents, and, as a result of that growing tax base, more library services. For the first time in our history, the library has had to make cuts to balance our budget due to the recession, and starting in 2010, Connections will change to reflect that with less color and fewer pages. Our website, cantonpl.org, will remain your up-to-date source for library news and events.

It is ironic that library usage is increasing while our budget is reduced. Our 2008 budget of $6.4 million is now reduced to $5.2 million in 2010. We've focused on making cuts that are invisible to you, but the depth of the coming budget cuts no longer makes that possible. You will notice longer lines at service desks, longer waits for bestsellers and new releases, more crowded tables and study carrels, and fewer sessions of storytimes and other events resulting in larger audiences.

Depending on the budget situation at the state level, further cuts to library services may be necessary, particularly interlibrary loan and the MeL research databases. Despite these tough times, the library staff, Board of Trustees, and Friends of the Library are working together to continue to provide our first-class township with a first-class library. 2009 brought us record increases in library transactions, visits, program attendance, and computer use, and national recognition for the outstanding services we provide. It is clear that the library is needed now more than ever, and as 2009 comes to a close, everyone here at the library thanks you for your support, today and in the future.

Diaper Day @ Canton Public Library

November 18 has been designated Diaper Day at the library as we partner with the Canton-based Detroit Area Diaper Bank in their 30,000 by Thanksgiving Diaper Drive. You can participate by dropping off your donation of diapers at the library on November 18. The Diaper Bank needs diapers and pull-ups in any brand or size, baby through adult; open packages are acceptable. Bring your contribution to the Reception Desk.

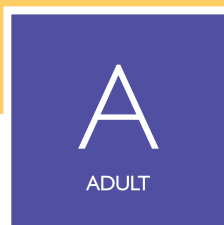

The Detroit Area Diaper Bank is a nonprofit charitable organization serving SE Michigan to meet the need for diapers at partner agencies working with people in crisis. The cost for diapers is not covered by WIC, Food Stamps and, in most circumstances, Medicare. For more information about the Detroit Area Diaper Bank, visit www.detroitareadiaperbank.org.

Target Grant

The Canton Public Library is the recipient of a $3,000 Target Store Early Childhood Reading Grant. Money from the grant, combined with funds from the Friends of the Canton Public Library, is used for Family Reading Nights at the Canton Public Library. Children's librarian Anne Cnockaert applied for the grant and helped set up the reading program (see Children's Programs for dates).

English Language Learners Discussion Group

Coming Attractions @ CPL

Want to know what materials are coming soon to the Canton Public Library? Get a sneak peek at our On Order list, viewable at www.cantonpl.org/books-more. Click the list you are interested in and you'll see the titles of all the materials we are expecting or currently processing. You can even place holds on these items so you'll be the first to get them when they hit our shelves.

As part of our Strategic Plan initiative, the library has partnered with the Plymouth-Canton Community Literacy Council to host discussion groups for people learning to speak the English language. These small group settings are a way for new speakers to practice their skills and connect with others who are also learning. The Community Literacy Council is a volunteer non-profit organization that provides free tutoring and conversation groups to adults in English reading, writing and communication skills. To see dates, times and registration information, turn to the Adult Programs page.

Go Green With Email Notices

Want to save time, money and the environment? Sign up for email notices from the library. We will send email, rather than U.S. mail notices, to let you know when your materials are due, when a hold is available for pickup or when you have overdue items.

The benefit for you is quicker communications and convenience. The benefit for us is saving time and money printing and mailing notices. The benefit for the environment is less paper and fuel use.

You can add your email to your account via the MyAccount feature at www.cantonpl.org. Log in to your patron record, click on Personal Information, enter your email and click Submit. You can also give us your email address next time you are in or call 734-397-0999 and have your account updated. We have a strict anti-spam policy and won't sell or give out your email to anyone or use it for anything other than account notices.

Letters About Literature Writing Contest

Has a book changed your life? Are you passionate about the environment? You might be interested in two upcoming contests sponsored by the Library of Congress:

LETTERS ABOUT LITERATURE

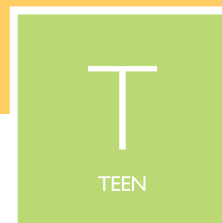

Letters About Literature is a letter writing contest. Children and teens write a letter to an author of a book that has changed their lives. There are three levels for grades 4-6, 7-8 and 9-12, with a state and national winner at each level. There are cash prizes for the winners and their community or school library at each level, provided by Target. The deadline for this competition is December 12, 2009. Entrants must be at least 9 years old.

River of Words is an environmental poetry and art contest on the theme of WATERSHEDS. The contest is designed to help youth explore the natural and cultural history of the place where they live, and to express, through poetry and art, what they discover. The deadline is December 1, 2009.

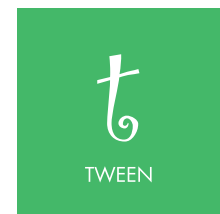

National level winners receive a trip to Washington, D.C. to present their work at the Library of Congress! This contest is open to youth age 5-19.

For more information, rules and entry forms, you can go to www.michigan.gov/mcfb or visit the Children's Reference Desk.

Chat With a Librarian

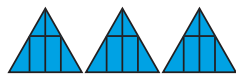

Did you know you can chat online with a librarian? Just use the chat feature on our website, www.cantonpl.org, and you'll have a real-time conversation with one of our reference librarians to get the answers to your questions. It's great for those after school homework projects when you can't get to the library but still need to get information.

On Display @ the Library

Starting in January, the bulletin boards and display cases in the Children's Library will be available for your displays. This is a great opportunity for scout troops, service groups, students, parents or teachers to share their knowledge and interests. You can propose a topic or ask for a suggestion. The group leader or person responsible should fill out a volunteer form, available at www.cantonpl.org/friends/frvolun.html, and in the Special Skills or Qualifications section, indicate Children's Bulletin Board. You will be contacted to go through the details and set up an installation date and time. We are looking forward to seeing your great displays.
