Everyone's Reading 2007

The popular community reading program is back with a selection featuring local history and drama. This year's title is Arc of Justice: A Saga of Race, Civil Rights, and Murder in the Jazz Age by Kevin Boyle.

This 2004 National Book Award winner tells the story of the sensational 1925 murder trial of Ossian Sweet, doctor and grandson of a slave, who moved into a white working-class neighborhood in Detroit. Famed defense attorney Clarence Darrow represented Sweet in the trial that received national attention.

Arc of Justice recounts the trial, explores the politics of racism and the growing pains of a young Civil Rights movement, and poignantly captures an epic tale of a man trapped by the battles of his era's changing times. The story may be 80 years old, but it has important lessons for today.

The program kicks off January 15, Martin Luther King Day, with a book discussion planned for March 8 and a visit from author Kevin Boyle in April. Also appearing at the library is the Sweet Photo Exhibit, a historical photo documentary display containing images from the era. The display, courtesy of the University of Detroit-Mercy, will be at the Canton Public Library April 7-15.

100 Days to Health

The Canton Public Library is joining with Canton Township to offer the 100 Days to Health program. Look on the Township website, <http://leisure.canton-mi.org/>, for joint programs on cooking, exercise, using the library to stay healthy and more. All program registrations are through the Canton Township Leisure Services office at 734-394-5496.

Stay Healthy @ Your Library

The library is full of ways to help you and your family stay healthy. Look for the Smart Card to find ways to keep your healthy habits going all year long.

New Year's Library Policy Review

The New Year is a natural time to take stock and review. This year, we'd like to remind patrons of some policies and practices to insure everyone has a pleasant experience when using the library.

- Please switch your phone to vibrate when you enter the library. If you need to use your phone, step into the lobby.
- Parents, encourage your children to use "inside voices" and walk, not run, in the library.
- For their own safety, children under 7 should be closely supervised and never left unattended in any part of the library. Make sure older children are picked up before closing time.
- Please lower your voice so as not to disturb others.
- Keep an eye on backpacks, laptops, handbags and portable listening devices.

Our library is very busy with over 77,000 cardholders and more than 1.5 million items circulating each year. By observing library policies, we can make sure the library remains a welcoming place for all Canton residents.

A Healthy Portion of Good Reading

One More Rep! Lessons From the World's Biggest, Strongest and Best Bodybuilders by John Little and Robert Wolff

Age-Defying Fitness: Making the Most of Your Body for the Rest of Your Life by Marilyn Moffat and Carole B. Lewis

You on a Diet: The Owner's Manual for Waist Management by Michael F. Roizen and Mehmet C. Oz

Prescription for Nutritional Healing by Phyllis A. Balch

Mindless Eating: Why We Eat More Than We Think by Brian Wansink

10,000 Steps a Day to Your Optimal Weight: Walk Your Way to Better Health by Greg Isaacs

Energize Your Life: A Three-Week Plan to Change the Way You Look, Feel & Live by Peter Bennett and Stephen Barrie

Make The Library A Healthy Habit

Are you one of the millions of Americans who made a New Year's resolution to get in shape and stay healthy? The Canton Public Library can help you keep that resolution for a lifetime.

No need to spend a fortune at a health club. Just check out one of the many fitness videos. Rev up your cardio workout with an intensive Tae-Bo video or de-stress with Tai Chi. Fight osteoporosis with bone-building exercises or get back your pre-pregnancy shape with Denise Austin.

You can also research numerous health topics from our Health Subject Page and get quick online access to the Health and Wellness Resource Collection, physician directories, prescription drug information and more.

Listen to an audiobook on CD or downloaded to your MP3 player for entertainment to get you through your workout. Or play a new music CD or DVD while you are logging miles on the treadmill.

Get serious about your health this year and make a stop at the library one of your new healthy habits.

MyAccount Updates

Several new features are now available on MyAccount, the Canton Public Library's online user account manager. To view the expiration date of your library card account, login to MyAccount by clicking the link on the library's homepage. The date your card expires will show directly under your name. All cards must be renewed every three years.

You can also change your preferences and personal information by clicking on the button "Modify Personal Information." Choose to add or update your telephone number and email address and select how you prefer to receive notices: by email, telephone, or postal mail.

In addition, you can use MyAccount to view online program registration status, cancel program registrations, or confirm dates and times. There's even an online registration tutorial available at www.cantonpl.org/services/reghowto.pdf to help you.

Find It Fast @ Your Library

Search the Everything Canton website, www.EverythingCanton.org, or the in-library kiosk for ways to take care of your family. You'll find everything from fitness facilities to home health care help and support. Whatever your family needs, find it fast at Everything Canton.

Managing Teen Stress

Combine school, sports, activities, clubs, volunteer work, homework, ACT/SATs and jobs and you get one over-scheduled, stressed-out teen. Add in normal teen growth and development, a lack of sleep and proper nutrition and it can be a recipe for disaster.

How can a teen manage the stress that comes from daily teen life? Here are a few resources from the Canton Public Library to get you on the right track.

Coping With Stress by Gwen K. Packard

Coping With Stress in College by Mark Rowh

A Tasteberry Teen's Guide to Managing the Stress and Pressures of Life:

With Contributions From Teens for Teens by Bettie B. Youngs

Chicken Soup for the Teenage Soul series published by Health Communications.

Your Space

Tweens, the library is creating a special space just for you. Take a walk through the Children's Department to the new Tween space (formerly the Blue Room). We're looking for a name for our new space so watch for details on how to submit your suggestion. When complete, the Tween space will have its own department desk, five public use computers, new seating and a totally new look.

Finding Fitness Resources for Kids

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, obesity is one of the biggest public-health threats. Around 20 percent of children are overweight or obese, leading to health risks like diabetes and heart disease, and emotional issues like isolation and teasing by classmates.

Parents can help children take control of their weight and fitness levels by encouraging activity. Some suggestions for different ages and stages:

Gymnastics Training and Fitness: Being Your Best by Jen Jones

A guide for children and pre-teens on ways to train and keep fit for gymnastics.

How to Teach Your Baby to be Physically Superb: Birth to Age Six

by Glenn Doman

This parenting book helps you help your child develop healthy fitness habits.

Mousercise produced by Walt Disney Records

Exercise to Mickey Mouse tunes on this audio CD.

Babar's Yoga for Elephants by Laurent de Brunhoff

Babar the elephant demonstrates and provides step-by-step instructions for basic yoga techniques and positions, then shows how he and Celeste use them to relax and have fun as they travel around the world.

Elmo's World Reach for the Sky

produced by Sesame Street

Join Elmo on this DVD as he discovers how much fun it can be to go to school, to jump really high and to reach the sky. Elmo finds out how important the sun is to everyone, how jumping is a great form of exercise and the importance of going to school.

Get Ready, Get Set, Dance!

Dance Dance Revolution, the popular dance video game, is coming to the Canton Public Library, along with a few other video games. Keep an eye on Teen Place for upcoming events, tournaments and fun with these new library resources.

Canton's 100 Days to Health

The Canton Public Library is joining with Canton Township to host special children's programs for the 100 Days to Health. Topics include children's fitness and nutrition. Check the Township's website at www.canton-mi.org for dates, times and registration information.

Coaching Kids @ Your Library

A great way for parents to encourage kids to be fit is to participate with them in activities by coaching or helping on a sports team. If you're not an expert, find plenty of coaching help with how-to videos and books, like How to Coach Tee Ball Without Going Insane by Robert Doss or Soccer for the First-Time Coach by Butch Lauffer.
