New Year, New Museum Adventure Pass Updates

The very popular Museum Adventure Pass (MAP) program, sponsored by Macy's, the Cultural Alliance of Southeastern Michigan and local libraries, has been continued for 2009.

Last year, Canton Public Library cardholders checked out nearly 3,000 passes to places like the Detroit Institute of Arts, Ford Rouge Factory Tour and Detroit Children's Museum. Each pass provides free admission for two or four, depending on attraction, and is valid for one week. This year's program features some changes in destinations, including the addition of the Anton Art Center in Mt. Clemens, Arts & Scraps in Detroit, the Birmingham Historical Museum, Detroit Artists Market, the Scarab Club and Wyandotte Historical Museum.

To check out a pass, select an available pass from the MAP kiosk. Present the pass and your library card at the Checkout Desk and you will be issued an admission voucher to the attraction. Please pay attention to special hours and restrictions at each attraction, found online at www.detroitadventurepass.org. You may check out one pass per library card; sorry, no holds or renewals are allowed according to our agreement with MAP.

Everyone's Reading 2009

Finding My Voice, by author and NPR host Diane Rehm, is the 2009 Everyone's Reading selection.

For over 25 years, Rehm has hosted the world's most interesting and important people on her award-winning radio show. She reflects on her difficult childhood and 1998 diagnosis of spasmodic dysphonia, a rare neurological disorder, in her memoir.

In its eighth year, Everyone's Reading promotes community dialogue through the shared experience of reading the same book. Pick up a copy of Finding My Voice at the Canton Public Library and check page 3 for other Everyone's Reading activities.

SMART CARD

Make a Fresh Start @ Your Library

Start a new business, make a new health resolution, and acquire new skills. You can do all those things and more with help from the Canton Public Library. Look for the Smart Card for more ways to make a fresh start.

OUR INTERNET BRANCH IS ALWAYS OPEN:

www.cantonpl.org

Tame Your Tuition Tiger

The Canton Public Library is your source for information on how to finance a college education. Start by grabbing a bookmark at the Reference Desk printed with the most up-to-date financial aid books in our education collection. Then visit the lobby rack for a free copy of the latest FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) form. You'll have college tuition tamed before you know it.

Chat With a Librarian

If you are a user of IM or other instant chat services, you will really like our new Ask a Librarian service. Simply click the link on our homepage, www.cantonpl.org, and engage in an online chat with an adult or children's librarian.

Ask a Librarian works in the same manner as other online chats. A dialog box will pop up on your screen for correspondence. Enter your question or comment and the librarian will respond. It's even easier than a phone call and puts you directly in touch with a librarian.

Online Job Search Resources

Use the Canton Public Library resources to aid in your job search. In addition to a wealth of printed materials on subjects including interview tips and resume preparation, we have useful online resources to help you prepare for your career. Visit www.cantonpl.org and search for databases to access these links. Use your library card to log in from home.

LearnATest has practice exams for Civil Service exams, cosmetology, EMS and firefighter, GED, law enforcement, nursing, real estate and health careers. Get the test experience and confidence to succeed on the academic or licensing tests you might need for your career.

Business & Company Resource Center (BCRC) features detailed company profiles, industry news, investment reports and information that can give you vital information about companies with which you may be interviewing.

Ask at the Reference Desk for more resources.

New Look Website Coming Soon

The familiar online face of the Canton Public Library is changing. Our new site design presents a simplified, consistent look for every page, making it easier for you to find what you're looking for. Important information will stand out and the newest items will be presented first.

You can still do all the same things, like track your account, search the catalog and use online databases but now you also have the capability to use RSS feeds and contribute online with your comments.

We hope that you find the new design appealing and easy to use and would really like your feedback. Please use the Contact Us link and send your comments.

Resolve to Get Organized @ Your Library

Organize your kitchen, your kids or your life with helpful guides from the Canton Public Library. Books and electronic resources provide solutions to clutter, methods to keep paper and possessions from overwhelming your home or office and help you get a fresh start on the new year. Just do a keyword search in the catalog for "organized."

Adult Programs January/February 2009

Registration for Adult Library Programs

Most library programs require advance registration. These programs are highlighted in yellow on the calendar and marked with ® in the description. For Adult programs on this page only, register in person or by calling 734-397-0999, starting one week before the program date unless otherwise noted.

Do You Have Senioritis?

High school seniors are in danger of contracting this dreaded disease. It typically occurs at the start of second semester of senior year, after receiving admission to college. It is the serious lack of motivation and apathy toward school work. This "virus" can have a negative impact on your grades and your future. Avoid it by studying, staying focused and going to class. Contracting senioritis could result in your college admission being revoked. The only known cure is graduation.

Contributed by Canton resident Christopher Tremblay, Director of Admissions and Orientation at the University of Michigan-Dearborn, who has seen many cases of senioritis.

Get Reference Help With Instant Message Chat

You probably instant message your friends all the time. Now you can instant message a Children's Librarian.

Next time you need help with an information question, visit the Canton Public Library website at www.cantonpl.org and click on the Ask a Librarian button. You'll be connected to an instant message chat with one of our Children's Librarians. It's even easier than calling and you'll get your answer in an instant.

Get Moving Toward Fitness

Don't let cold, snowy weather keep you from exercising. The library has books, music and videos to get you off the couch and on your way to fitness. Or come to one of our gaming events and get moving with Wii, DDR and other games. Our collection of health and fitness materials is better than ever so come check them out.
